LOCAL MATTERS.

CHURCH NOTES.—In the Grace-Street Presbyterian courch the pastor (Rev. Dr. C. H. Read) preached in the morning from Romans x.: 10. The subject of the evening discourse was "Moses at Mount Sinai"—eue of a course of lectures popularly but theroughly treated on the remarkable scenes, pisees, and actors of the Bible. It's fluent and coplous diction, its body and depth, were engaging and instructive. were enraging and instructive.

The point was emphasized that Moses led who started on their wanderings without the accessions of civilized government or summary of the whole duty of man, and the Conservatives there was no obscure codes of human organization. The former, readable with deliberation in three minutes, and intelligible to the humblest minds, has never been equalled, approached, or improved upon, and, after the passage of 3,000 years, stands to day a monument of Divine wisdom and forestell, and a pattern for all human laws.

nary, preached. His subject in the morning was "Men's Thoughts of Christ"—alstorical, theological, and experimental, Under the first head he demonstrated that the most influential factor in the world's civilization would be wanting if the character and work of Christ should be left out. Under the second division he gave a rapid survey of the divergent views which have been held in all the eras in regard to the person and work of Christ. The illustrations of his shall be called to give an account, not of his neighbor, but of himself, and be not a mere spectator, but the most interested participant in the solemn events.

At Laurel-Street church Rev. Preston Nash preached in the morning and the pastor at night.

Park-Place church was selected as the place for the next regular monthly meeting (joint service), and Bishop Doggett was requested to preside. At the Grace-Street Baptist church Sunday morning the memorial services were of the most impressive character. Rev. Dr. Hatcher preached an eloquent discourse on the life of Dr. Jeter. Colonel Thomas J. Evans presented a preamble and resolutions sketching the eminent services of the deceased during his connection with this tained, expressing admiration for the noble Christian minister who had been called to his reward, and sympathy for all who mourned his departure. Rev. H. H. Harris, D. D., moved their adoption in a touching address. The mo-tion was carried by a rising vote. As the immense congregation rose the choir sang, with telling effect, "Shall we gather at the river." An original poem, appropriate to the solemn occasion, was read by Professor Harris. Throughout the entire services the deepest emotion was manifested by the congregation. Rev. A. B. Woodfin preached

THE VALLEY RAILBOAD. The following is interesting: RICHMOND, VA , February 28, 1880.

John B. Lady, House of Debgates, Richmond, Va.: Dear Sir,-I have the honor to acknow ledge your communication of this date, in which you ask for information as to the purposes and expectations of the Valley Railroad Company in the event of the re-peal of the act amending its charter, approved April 2, 1879. Owing to the financial depression brought about by the panic of 1873, the Valley Rail-road Company, in common with many other companies engaged in like enterprises, was compelled to suspend its operations. The revival of prosperity throughout the country warrants the belief that the present is a favorable opportunity for carrying out the original plan of completing the road.

At a recent annual meeting of the stockolders it was decided that the principal impediment in the way of a speedy re-sumption was the act referred to, and the stockholders unanimously expressed the de-sire that it should be repealed. It must be obvious to any one that with this act in force, providing in certain contingencies for the forfeiture of the franchises and property of the company, any effort to induce capitalists to invest in its securities would be wellnigh hopeless.

At the time the company was formed many leading business- and financial-men expressed the opinion that, with the foundation lost, by the stock subscriptions of $3,-200,000 there would be no difficulty in raising sufficient loans to complete the road by the negotiation of a mortgage of three millions of dollars. I believe that the con-dition of financial affairs, especially as it affects railway interests, is as favorable today for such negotiations as it was when this opinion was given.

The company now proposes, if the act is repealed, to promptly place the proposed mortgage on record, and to make a vigorous effort to raise the means to complete the undertaking, and in this effort I am warranted in saying that the principal stockholders will cordially cooperate, and I trust and believe that at an early day these efforts will prove successful.

I beg further to express the opinion that unless this act be repealed the successful negotiation of the mortgage will be impos-sible and the work be thus indefinitely postponed. I am, very respectfully, your obedient ervant, WILLIAM KEYSER, President Valley railroad.

Mr. Riddleberger yesterday presented to the Senate the following resolution: Resolved. That the Attorney-General be equested to give to the Senate, at his earliest convenience, his opinion as to what pay, either salary or per diem, the members of the present General Assembly are entitled to receive on the hypothesis that this is the unlimited session under the amended Constitution.

The resolution created a discussion, the opponents of the measure holding that it might place the Attorney-General in an unpleasant attitude if he were to be called upon to defend a case in which the Comonwealth is interested. Mr. Riddleberger said he had heard a learned lawyer in the city of Richmond say that he thought the members of the General Assembly were entitled to $6 per of them, shall be $300. Adjourned to the 10th instant at 5 P. M. A LENGTHY CHARGE.-The case of Frank Ruth was called in the Police Court yesterday and continued until to-day. The charge against Ruth is quite a lengthy one, and is as follows: "Did unlawfully and maliciously conspire, confederate, and agree, together with others, to injure and destroy the business of Leibermuth & Millhaser by destroying their business signs, threatening those who sell their goods, and forcing customers, by threats, to take down the business cards of said Leibermuth & Millhiser; and under false pretence did steal and earry away the signs of said Leibermuth & Milhiser; and also threatening their workmen." About one dozen witnesses have been summoned divine art, to make a suggestion.

We are sadly in need of good tenor voices; indeed, there is scarcely one first-voices; indeed, there is scarcely one firstto testify in the case. The accused volun-tarily surrendered himself to the proper anthorities to answer the charge, and was bailed for his appearance at court this mern-

A MAN'S NOSE BITTEN OFF AND THEN SEWED ON .- Several nights ago a colored man named John Ayres, residing at 804 Cary street, started on a visit to an acquaintance who lives near the Second African Baptist church, in the penitentiary bottom. Upon reaching the house, Ayres looked over the fence. A flerce dog happened to be near the fence, and sprang forward and caught him by the nose, biting it entirely off. He immediately went home and procured the assistance of a physician. Dr. Deaton arrived shortly afterwards, and lendards the shortly afterwards, and lendards the shortly afterwards and lendards the shortly afterwards. dered all the aid possible, and sewed the unfortunate man's nose on. Ayres's son states that he went back to the place where the biting occurred, and, after a careful search found the probosels which the dog had re-moved lying in the yard. It was brought to the attending physician, who sewed it on. Ayres's face presented a pitiful sight, and his injury may prove a dangerous one.

sisted by Mr. Edwin Hoff, the accomplished tenor from Saltimore.

Mr. Hoff was heard in opera here last year, and made an agreeable impression; but the real beauty of his voice was not known until he was heard in the several beautiful solos which he rendered, at the Monumental on Sunday. His style is excellent, and in his execution the aweet timber of his voice shows evidence of careful study. And I would say 'anhesitatingly (believing it to be the almos', universal verdict of those who heard him) that he is probably the best church 'enor our city has over known.
